

Introduction to the Module 3: Finding Stories in Data

Hi, welcome to Module 3. In this module titled Finding Stories in Data, you're going to learn how to explore data sets after you learn how to download a data set, how to get that data set ready to be used. Now you're going to learn how to extract insights and potentially stories from those data. First of all, Simon Simon Rogers will teach you several examples, will show you several examples of data stories and then later Minhaz Kazi from Google will teach you how to use Google Data Studio to explore your data and find those stories in it.
